Animal & Plant Health Agency

Animals moving to shows for exhibition for the first time will not have to be kept separate prior to moving to the show irrespective of whether any other livestock have been moved onto those premises in the 13 day period immediately before moving. If attending only one show within any one 13 day period the animal will not require to be held separate on return from the show nor will the return home trigger a 13 day standstill for any other animal on the home farm. Also animals may move from show to show or may return to their usual premise of residence without triggering a 13 day standstill provided they are kept in separate facilities under an authorised separation agreement with SGRD. In all cases the standstill period for pigs is 20 days.

Animals coming cross-border to shows from England or Wales (or vice versa) will be subject to the disease control measures which apply in the home countries until such time as they cross the border. Thereafter, the disease control measures in the country being visited will apply. Animals coming from Northern Ireland will have to meet the conditions of import. Once in Scotland all will be subject to the provisions of the Disease Control (Interim Measures) (Scotland) Order 2002 (as amended).

The Transport of Animals (Cleansing and Disinfection) (Scotland) Regulations 2005 applies to vehicles taking animals to and from a show/exhibition.

HEALTH STATUS: SUMMARY SCOTTISH GOVERNMENT

- Any animal coming from a Scottish holding must have a 'negative' herd status for BVD or be individually tested negative for the BVD virus.
- Any animal from a 'not negative' herd cannot move to a show unless it has been individually tested negative for the BVD virus.
- Any animal coming from outside Scotland should either be from a BVD CHeCS accredited herd or be individually tested negative for the BVD virus.

ANIMAL IDENTIFICATION:

CATTLE

Cattle born after 1 January 1998 must have a Defra approved eartag in each ear (double tagging). The tag in each ear must have the same unique number. Such animals will be identified throughout their lifetime by this unique number. Animals born or imported into Great Britain before 1 January 1998 may continue to be identified by a single tag. Cattle born after 1 July 2000 must be identified by all numeric tags.

Tagging Requirements

- The tags used for double tagging are known as the primary and secondary tag. The 'Primary' tag, which may be inserted in either ear, must be made of yellow plastic and be at least 45 mm from top to bottom and at least 55 mm wide; the characters must be a minimum of 5 mm high. The primary tag must bear the symbol of a crown (the GB logo), the letters UK and the unique lifetime identification number.
- The 'Secondary' tag may be of a range of approved materials and models, including metal, plastic 'button' type and other plastic type. It must contain the same information as the primary tag, but may also contain management information. The secondary tag must be in a different ear from the primary tag.

Show Moves

When an animal moves on and off a showground, the steps below should be followed.

- Keeper reports the movement off the holding.
- Show Secretary reports the movements on and off the showground.
- Keeper reports the movements back on to the holding.

Keepers need to report the movement of cattle off and back on to their holding to BCMS within 3 days of the show.

Keepers must bring documents to the show for each animal:

A cheque book style passport (CPP13); or

A single page passport (CPP52); or

A certificate of registration (CHR3); or

A green passport (CPP1).

If the passport movement summary is full, a continuation sheet should be attached

Sheep and Goats (Records, Identification and Movements) (Scotland) Order 2009

Tagging Requirements:

- Sheep born or identified after 31/12/09 require:-
- Full EID, two identifiers one of which must be electronic. The EID can be contained in a tag, a bolus (an identifier in a container that is swallowed and stays in the animal's stomach) or a pastern tag (band around the animal's lower leg). The options available for identifying sheep are listed below:-
- EID ear tag (preferably yellow) + conventional ear tag (any colour except red and black)
- EID ear tag (preferably yellow) + tattoo
- EID ear tag (preferably yellow) + conventional pastern tag
- EID Bolus + conventional ear tag (must be black)
- EID Bolus + conventional pastern tag (must be black)
- EID pastern tag + conventional ear tag (any colour except red and black)
- Note: a red tag indicates a replacement tag where there is not complete traceability

- Sheep intended for slaughter under 12 months of age, require a Single Electronic slaughter tag which contains the flock mark only.
- Goats are only required to be double identified and do not require an EID identifier but may be so identified if the owner wishes
- Sheep and Goats born after 18 January 2008 and before 31 December 2009 must be identified with two means of identification (two official ear tags or one official ear tag and a tattoo or, solely in the case of goats, one official ear tag and a pastern mark) bearing the same individual number.
- Older animals born prior to 18 January 2008 and not already officially identified are now also subject to the double identification requirement. However, in the case of animals born prior to 09 July 2005, this will only apply when the animals are to be moved off the holding.

Moves to Shows

A movement document must be completed for each move to and from the show or exhibition showing the number of animals moved at batch level. It is the keeper's responsibility to report these moves to the Scottish Animal Movement Unit (SAMU), Government Buildings, 161 Brooms Rd, Dumfries, DG1 3ES. Supplies of movement documents and assistance with their completion can be obtained from SAMU, Tel No: 0845 601 7597, Fax No: 01387 274457 or email: samu@scotland.gsi.gov.uk. For any other information please contact your local area office. Stock may be inspected at shows in order to satisfy disease control measures.
